

Bold Ideas of Land Morphology:

A Celebration of American Gardens

February 2020

Land Morphology

Richard W. Hartlage

Take your pleasure seriously.

Charles Eames

A little History

Pierre Dupont at Longwood

Beatrix Ferrand and her masterpieces

The Butterfly Lakes at Middleton Place

Loutrel Briggs in Charleston

Piet Oudolf at home and in Millennium Park

Styles:

Arts and Craft Gardens:

Gertrude at Munstead Wood and her influence in America

Vita and Herald at Sissinghurst

Mathews Garden in Seattle

Hardie Garden, in the land of Martha, Nutley, NJ

Herb Garden at Brooklyn Botanical Garden

Bauer Garden in Seattle

An Artist Garden by Hoerr/Schaudt Landscape Architects

The Channel Garden at Rockefeller Center

Matrix or Ecological Plantings:

Karl Foerster in Pottsdam

Lake Washington Manor House, Seattle, WA

Chihuly Gardens and Glass

The Seattle Waterfront with James Corner Field Operations

The Pollinator Meadow at Leach Botanical Gardens, Portland, OR

Going Native:

Longwood meadow on a grand scale

Chihuly Gardens and Glass

Henry Island and a lot of Salal

Graphic Planting:

Roberto Burle Marx in Pretropolis, Brazil

Department of Treasury: Washington DC, Oehme van Sweden

Citygarden: St Louis MO, Nelson Byrd Woltz